

Bay Area Union Leader Praises Marinship Workers

"Blast Enemies Of Free Labor Wherever Found"

The amazing feat of Marinship workers who signed up 99.8 per cent on the Victory Fleet Day pledge to build ships to "blast the enemies of free labor wherever they may be found"—drew the praise today of an outstanding San Francisco Bay Area labor leader.

In an official statement, Al Wynn, secretary of the Bay Cities Metal Trades Council, declared:

"I congratulate the workers of Marinship upon their wholehearted support for Victory Fleet Day, when 99.8 per cent of all workers on the job pledged themselves to build ships until the enemies of free labor are defeated throughout the world.

"I am sure this sentiment, which was subscribed to by workers in all Maritime Commission shipyards, reflects the opinion of right-thinking workers everywhere."

Wynn's statement was released after K. K. Bechtel, president of Marinship Corporation, sent a telegram to Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the U. S. Maritime Commission, informing him of the virtually unanimous sign-up.

The telegram also informed the national shipbuilding chief that Marinship workers are co-operating with the Third War Loan by investing 11 per cent of the total yard payroll in war bonds every pay day.

As further evidence of Marinship's workers' feelings, a mammoth copy of the Victory Fleet Day pledge—on a sheet 10 feet wide and 35 feet long—was sent to Washington. This "world's biggest production pledge" carried the names of thousands of Marinship workers.

It was on display at national Maritime Commission offices in the national capitol on September 27, Victory Fleet Day, and will be taken by Daniel Ring, Maritime Commission official, to the convention of the American Federation of Labor in Boston.

The complete pledge, which had the approval of John Frey of the AFL, and John Green of the CIO, reads as follows:

"On this Victory Fleet Day, September 27, 1943, I solemnly pledge that I will pour into the production of ships for Victory so full a measure of my muscle, mind and money that the fighters of our United Nations will never lack war materials to blast into oblivion the enemies of free labor, wherever they may be found."

882 Students Attend Marin City School

Three new teachers were hired last week to take care of Marin City's mounting school enrollment. Seventy-one new children checked in on Monday, bringing the total up to 882 now enrolled here.

The new teachers are Mrs. J. Astles, sixth grade; Mr. Donald Jameson, eighth grade, and Mrs. Ines Preston, first grade. Parents who have been inquiring about the age restriction for registering their children this week received the following information from the superintendent's office:

"According to the law at present, the age requirements are:

Kindergarten — 4 years, 9 months.

First grade — 5 years, 9 months."

Parents will be notified immediately if there is a change made in this present ruling.

JAMES P. MYERS, 44, San Francisco shipfitter whose essay on "How Best to Cure Early Quitting" was declared the best of 516 contributed by workers of Marinship Corporation at Sausalito, congratulates MISS MARIE MAY HANSEN, 22-year-old burner trainee, who won second prize.

Marin City PTA Set Up At Reception

Marin City's new Parent-Teachers Association started off last Sunday with a complete slate of elected officers and 47 charter memberships.

The new president of the organization is Mrs. Helen Wilker. Other officers are: Mrs. Nina Lindburg, first vice president; Mrs. Opal Chapman, second vice president; Mrs. Helen Bright, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Del Tredici, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. A. Walento, treasurer.

The candidates for election were read from the nominating committee's report. No further nominations were made from the floor.

Elections followed presentation of the colors by members of Scout Troop 32, an invocation from Dr. Norman Pendleton, and introductions of teachers and trustees by School Superintendent Clifton Boyle.

Mrs. Ed G. Jackson, district extension chairman of the Marin Council, served as chairman until the election of Mrs. Wilker. Other county P.T.A. officers present were: Mrs. Walter G. Traub, past president of the 14th District; Mrs. Frederick Farr, chairman of legislation of the 14th District, and Mrs. Glenn L. Ensign, president of the Marin County Council.

Following the organizational meeting, parents and teachers adjourned to the new school building where the parents inspected the building and talked with the teachers of their children.

Board of trustee members L. Pieraccini, F. Pasquinnucci and Robert L. Anderson attended the school open house.

Women who served tea and cookies were Mrs. Leona Wright, Mrs. Dan Allen, Mrs. J. R. Kahrt and Mrs. Helen Van Pelt.

War Stamp School Sales Net $372

The first bond and war stamp sale at the new school, last Tuesday, netted $372.15 for Uncle Sam by the school children's purchases.

The afternoon session of the sixth grade made a 100 per cent participation record. Mrs. Isobel Jones is teacher of the class.

Tuesday has been set as the regular sale day for bonds and stamps at the school.

Nickel Day For All Kids At Carnival

Saturday afternoon at the carnival has been turned into a "Kids' Nickel Matinee"—all rides and attractions will be open to girls and boys for just 5 cents, one-half of a dime.

The gates open at 1 o'clock and the nickel matinee continues until 6 o'clock. Those five hours belong to Marin City kids—the whole midway will be open.

A regular matinee will be held on Sunday, starting at 1 p. m. The carnival closes at midnight Sunday.

Time Changed For Volunteer Fire Meeting

The time of the Sunday business meeting of the Volunteer Firemen has been changed to 7 p. m., according to an announcement made late this week by Tom Roberts, president. The meeting will be held at the Fire House.

Tenant Conference, First In Country, To Be Held Sunday

The first War Housing Tenants' Conference in the United States will be held next Sunday at 1 p. m. at the Victory-Solano Auditorium, Vallejo, California.

Speakers for the afternoon program are: Langdon Post, regional director of the Federal Public Housing Authority; Dr. John Rafferty, deputy director of the State Department of Public Health; Augustus F. Hawkins, CIO representative and a state assemblyman, and John F. Shelley, of the San Francisco Labor Council and state senator.

Dr. Max Radin, professor of law at the University of California, will make the main address. Anthony Mattos, general manager of the Western Cooperative Dairymen's Union, will also speak.

The program includes an invocation by Dr. Norman Pendleton, introduction by David Landy, and the keynote address by Michael Smith, chairman of the Marin City Council. Greetings from service men will complete the first part of the conference.

At 3:30 p. m. the conference will divide into panel discussions, to recommend action on tenant problems for conference vote when the conference reconvenes after the dinner hour.

The last order of business calls for election and induction of new officers for a permanent organization.

All Marin City people who are planning to attend the conference should contact Michael Smith, house 81, for arrangements and reservations. Cars for the Vallejo conference will leave the Community Building at 11 a. m. Sunday morning. Residents here who need transportation should assemble at the Community Building.

Pants Burglar At Large In Marin City

There's a pants burglar loose in Marin City, judging from the sheriff's records this week.

Two residents, J. A. Johnson of A17, Apt. 327, and Larry Nichols of A15, Apt. 611 both reported the loss of trousers last Tuesday. The burglar apparently snagged the trousers out through open bedroom windows of the apartments, during the night, frisked the pockets and then abandoned the clothing.

Mr. Johnson's losses were two checks (he reports that he has stopped payment on them), $5 in cash, his wrist watch, gas ration book and social security card.

Mr. Nichols lost $1.50 in cash, his draft card and social security card.

How To Get A Policeman Nights

Residents who want to see a deputy sheriff at night when both deputies are out patrolling the project should turn on the switch at the left of the entrance to the office.

The switch turns on a red light above the building which guides the deputies back for emergencies.

100 Men Respond To Work Appeal

Nearly 100 Marin City residents responded to the appeal which appeared in last week's "Marin Citizen" for workers to complete the drainage ditch here.

Caletti & Leibert, contractors, this week expressed their appreciation of the overwhelming response. "Our appeal for part-time workers here was the last hope we had of completing the drainage system before the rains come.

"We trusted that the citizens here would be civic-minded enough to help. Our trust has been more than met. We appreciate the fact that this extra work means long hours for shipyard workers and sacrifice of their own time. We are grateful and gratified that so many volunteered for this work which will help all their neighbors," a spokesman from the contractors' office declared.

Following is a list, released by the contractors, of men who were working the first of this week: Cecil Arterbery, Elmer Augustine, Eligah Bailey, J. L. Beauchamp, Theo Barron, Joseph Bellamy, Lester Bongard, Emil Brandt, Tom. Jos. Burton, W. F. Casey, Henry Clary, James Coker, B. J. Coleman and Ray Colver.

More workers are: Mack Edwards, Horace Felix, L. Gillian, Eddie Harris, Gilbert Harris, W. O. Harris, Simon Hickman, Robert Highfill, Eugene Jeffries, C. H. Keel, Edward Knops, H. I. Kylo, L. T. Houston, Jack Manker, Louis Masias, L. G. Mathias and Martin A. McKinley.

Others are: Oscar Moen, Kermit Olson, Gerald Patterson, Jessie Patton, M. S. Pendley, A. C. Pool, D. E. Price, J. D. Royal, Clarence Santos, Arthur Showers, Jake Simpson, David Smith, L. Sims, Willie Smith, Liburn Tatman, C. G. Thompson, F. J. Urman, George J. Valerio, Isaac Vondo, S. O. Walum, Robert Webb and Emerson York.

In addition to the names mentioned here there are 25 Marin City men on the waiting list.

Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, Marin City branch chairman of the Red Cross Blood Donor Service, and Mrs. Dale Dinsmore will be on duty to give out information and recruit blood donors in the Marin County Red Cross Blood Donor Service booth at the Grape Festival at Kentfield on Saturday.

U.S.E.S. Has Official At Marin City

The United States Employment Service now has a representative in Marin City every Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

The representative, Miss Henrietta Danaceau, will give work clearances and interview applicants for jobs other than the shipyard.

Last week 12 shipyard workers got their clearances through her, and two women were placed in jobs.

Having a U.S.E.S. representative here saves Marin City residents the trip to the office in San Rafael.

Miss Danaceau is located in the USO Travelers' Aid building on Thursdays.

County Gives Aid To Marin City Family

The County Board of Supervisors voted county welfare food tickets for two months for a Marin County family at their meeting last Monday.

The grant was made after an appeal by Mrs. Marie Larson, USO director, who described the family's need. The food will enable the mother of the family, a tuberculosis patient, to take a two months' rest. The father of the family, also tubercular, is being cared for in the county hospital now.

Mrs. Larson's plea was backed by appeals from Mrs. J. R. Kahrt, president of the Marin City Women's Club; Daniel Allen, member of the Council, and Mrs. Michael Smith, a neighbor of the family.

Shoes and Tires To Be Scarcer, OPA States

These are reminders received this week from the Office of Price Administration.

Gasoline

A-8 coupons are now good and must last until November 21. Tire inspection for holders of A coupons must be taken care of by Thursday, September 30 (today).

Tires

New tires are now available only to holders of C cards who drive 601 miles or more a month.

Sugar

Stamp No. 14 good for five pounds through October. Stamps No. 15 and 16 good for five pounds each for home canning through October 31.

Shoes

Stamp No. 18 good for one pair. Validity of this stamp has been extended indefinitely. The new shoe stamp, No. 1 on the "airplane" sheet in Ration Book No. 3, which becomes valid November 1, probably will have to last six months. Thus Stamp No. 18 will overlap the new stamp and will make it possible for a person to save shoe stamps until shoes are needed.

Meats and Fats

Red stamps X, Y and Z are good through October 2. Brown stamp C good through October 30. Brown stamp D good October 3 and through October 30.

Volunteer Firemen Meet Sunday

The Volunteer Firemen will hold their second business meeting next Sunday at 7 p.m. at the Fire House, according to Tom Roberts, president.

California aircraft plants have received 22 per cent of all war contracts for airplanes and parts.

Air Raid Drill Shows Progress Says W.C. Lewis

"Last Tuesday's air raid drill was 100 per cent more efficient than the first one," says W. C. Lewis, warden chief.

There were 15 incidents in the practice drill. Fourteen of these were reported and taken care of by cooperating agencies—fire department, police, maintenance, and Red Cross, according to Lewis.

All CD Units In City To Meet Sunday

The combined forces of the Swing Shift and Day and Graveyard Civilian Defense organizations will meet next Sunday at 10:30 a. m. to elect a coordinator of all Marin City civilian defense activities. The meeting will be at the Control Center.

Sick Dogs Picked Up

The Marin County Humane Society, which comes to Marin City every Tuesday and Friday picks up all reported sick or stray dogs and cats.

Stray or sick animals should be reported to the management office or the sheriff's office here, says M. W. Ellis, humane officer.

"Because we are a charitable organization, we depend upon donations from each city where we work. We'd appreciate a contribution from the Marin City Council so that we can continue with our services," said Ellis.

Blood Donor Unit Here October 8

The Mobile Unit of the Red Cross Blood Donor Service will be set up at the Community House on Friday, October 8, and those wishing to give their blood for the fighting forces should make appointments as early as possible, according to Mrs. W. C. Billingsley, Marin City chairman for the Blood Donor Service.

"Hundreds of pints of blood have been collected by the Red Cross for the Army and Navy right here in Marin City since the Mobile Unit started coming to the Community House in March on a once a month visit basis, and we must maintain the splendid record," Mrs. Billingsley stated. "There is no end to the stories that come home to us from the fighting fronts recounting the miraculous saving of lives because of blood plasma transfusions," she continued.

Sign up at the Red Cross in the Rental Office for an appointment on Friday, October 8, or see Mrs. Billingsley at A15-607 after office hours.

New Dates For Home Nursing

Mrs. A. Walenta this week announced new dates for home nursing classes in Marin City.

New dates are:
Tuesday, 10 to 12 a. m.
Wednesday, 7:30 to 9:30 p. m.

YOUR HEALTH

By DR. JULIUS ALSBERG

High blood pressure and its symptoms is a rather frequent condition. Even more so since, due to the increase of life expectancy, people get older than about 50 years ago.

High blood pressure is a symptom. It has many different causes: disease of the kidney, of the arteries, a tumor of the suprarenal gland or changes in the pituitary gland. Often we do not know the primary disease and we call then this condition; essential hyper-tension.

Investigations of recent years have led to the concept that a reduction in the blood supply causes the elaboration of a substance which constricts the arterial vessels. The heart acting as a pump forces the blood through the circulatory system into the very narrow pipes of the capillaries. On its way the blood carries the necessary nutriment for the tissue cells. If the capillaries are constricted and too narrow, this nutriment cannot reach the cells. The pumping power has to be increased in order to do so. The heart muscle must work harder and—like any other muscle—enlarges. The arteries which have to stand an increased pressure, become thicker. It is not the high blood pressure, but its eventual consequences, which might become serious.

Contributive causes may be an inherited constitutional disposition, emotional stress, diet, too much hate and "busy-being." The last two factors are often the characteristics of an executive or a "big shot."

The prognosis ranges from good to bad, depending on the underlying cause. Cures are rare.

Ploesti Raid By Air Force Backed Up By Army Ordnance

Brig. Gen. Uzal G. Ent, commanding general of the Ninth Bomber Command which bombarded the Ploesti oil refineries in Rumania on August 1, stated on his return to the United States that the Army Ordnance contribution to this spectacular raid was "truly magnificent."

According to a memorandum received today by Col. K. B. Harmon, district chief of the San Francisco Ordnance District, the skip bombing technique, first developed by Col. S. P. Huff of the Ordnance Department, Army Service Forces, in cooperation with the Army Air Forces again proved its superb value against ground targets in the Ploesti area.

So far as the Axis is concerned, Ploesti was another Bismarck Sea battle. In the latter engagement the Japs lost 12 transports and 10 warships.

Bomber at Treetop

"Our B-24 bombers," General Ent declared, "approached the Ploesti target area at tree-top level. We did this in order to get under Axis radio detector systems and to duck the Nazi 88-mm. anti-aircraft guns. We then climbed to 200 or 250 feet, in order to escape the smokestacks, and released our bombs broadside on each specific target. The 60 barrage balloons didn't cause us any trouble. Our job was to get the bombs planted squarely inside each target. Immediately after we released our bomb loads, we dropped down again to tree-top level.

"We hit six out of the seven targets assigned to us solidly in the midriff. The reason we failed to hit the American-owned Romano Americana plant was that the navigator for the leading planes was killed before we reached the target. Under these circumstances, we hit the plant adjacent to the Romano Americana refinery. I deeply regret that we didn't smack the No. 1 target on our list.

Destroy Refineries

"The Ordnance - Air Forces skip bombing technique severely damaged or destroyed 42 per cent of the total capacity of Ploesti—the most modern and efficient refineries — leaving only ancient or obsolete equipment.

"Our Ordnance machine guns and cannon knocked down 51 Nazi fighter planes.

"This battle over Rumania was a decided contribution to the cause of the United Nations — particularly Russia. I think it can be demonstrated that failure to secure petroleum for Nazi mechanized equipment from Ploesti during the week of August 1 was an important contributing factor to German withdrawal on the Russian front.

Time-Delay Fuses

"I should also like to pay particular tribute to the Ordnance Department for the wonderful time-delay fuses we used on this raid. They worked like a charm. Our Ordnance bombs had special anti-handling devices that must have kept the Axis nervously on their toes for quite a while. I remember one press release to the effect that Ordnance eggs were still exploding on August 3-two days after the raid.

"I regard this Ploesti raid as the greatest single achievement of any air force in this war—thanks to Army Ordnance and the cool heroism of our Liberator bomber crews."

CHURCH Service

Dr. Ralph E. Bayless, one of the outstanding pulpit orators of the Pacific Coast and the Western representative of the American Bible Society, will be the guest preachers on Sunday morning at the Marin City Community Church.

Dr. Bayless will speak to the children at 10 a. m. and preach at the 11 o'clock morning church service.

The special music for the morning service will include a soprano solo by Opal Hansen and a soprano-contralto duet by Mrs. Ruth Cooper and Betty Lee Maycock.

House Workers Needed At War Workers' Homes

The USO Travelers' Aid in Marin City this week is sending out an appeal for women house workers to register there.

"Women who will work all day, part time, or any of their free hours in war workers' homes here are urgently requested to register with us now. Older women who will stay with other women's babies or help with other women's housework will release woman-power to build ships.

"In releasing workers for the shipyard, visiting housekeepers will be contributing their share to the war effort," says Mrs. Marie Larson, director of the local USO.

Women who will keep babies in their homes and women who will go into the pre-nursery school children's homes where the mother is working, are both desperately needed, says Mrs. Larson.

Also needed are housekeepers who will do general housework any number of hours per week.

The USO does not set the wage scale of these house workers. However, says Mrs. Larson, the average price is $1.50 per day per child, with an increasing scale if housework is also expected.

A CLASSIFIED AD IN "THE MARIN CITIZEN" WILL BE READ BY OVER 6000 WAR WORKERS. FOR AS LITTLE AS 50c, FOR 3 LINES, A CARD TO P. O. BOX 556, WILL BRING A REPRESENTATIVE, PERSONAL

If you have news that you'd like to see printed don't forget to drop it in "The Marin Citizen" box at the Community Center. Deadline is Tuesday night.

County's Largest Charity Carnival Starts Saturday

After months of preparation, Marin County's 44th annual Grape Festival is ready for Saturday, October 2, at the Kent estate in Kentfield.

The festival is Marin's biggest charity affair of the year. The funds earned are contributed to "Sunny Hills," the Presbyterian orphanage in San Anselmo, an institution devoted to the care of orphans and children with parent problems.

Mrs. Jerome L. Tallant, director of the fete, announces the completion of arrangements for a varied program throughout the day.

Jo-Jo the Clown, world famous entertainer, will be on hand.

Mrs. Carl Rupe, program chairman, has trained and with the assistance of her mother, Mrs. Hans Sorenson, helped costume 50 Marin County children, who will present an International dance program on the Kent lawn.

About 70 booths will provide an assortment of home-cooked food and a wide variety of articles for sale.

Members of the Marin City Women's Club are stocking and supervising a pie booth.

Mrs. John Kahrt is president of the organization.

Drive for WAC Recruits On

Fast moving teams of recruiting workers will move out this week to all parts of Central and Northern California to carry the call to the colors to California women in the nationwide effort to enlist many thousands into the Women's Army Corps. The campaign, probably the greatest single recruiting effort in the history of the country, grows out of the War Department's plan to replace with women trained by the Army the thousands of soldiers now doing a wide variety of tasks in noncombatant duty. These men, thus released, are being transferred to training camps all over the country, where they are being prepared for combat duty overseas.

In the last year since the inception of the WAC program, the women from all states of the Union have proved their worth in military duty. As a result of this, requests are on file for the services of women in posts, camps and stations throughout the country, in overseas headquarters of fighting units and in service commands abroad.

It is because women have proved themselves as good or better than soldiers in more than 100 different kinds of non-combatant jobs that the Army today contemplates raising a Women's Army Corps of 600,000. If the requests now on file for the services of WACs were to be filled, even that vast number would be insufficient to meet the need.

CD Card Party Next Monday Eve

There will be a card party in the Community Lounge at 8 o'clock Monday evening, October 4.

Come and indulge in your favorite card game with your friends and neighbors. There will be whist, pinochle, five hundred and bridge.

This party is sponsored by the Day and Graveyard Civilian Defense, with Frank Mack in charge. Should sufficient interest develop, it is planned to form a club to carry on a weekly schedule of card parties during the coming months.

There will be no charge for admission on Monday evening, and all card fans are cordially invited to be present and get the club going.

Distribution Of Ration Book 4 In October

The OPA announced this week that ration book four, which will last for two years, will be distributed through all schools in the county late in October.

The new book will contain 384 red, blue, black and green stamps and will cover the foods already rationed, together with other goods that may be rationed later.

Schools are being used as distribution centers, according to the OPA, because there is insufficient time to handle applications between completion of the mailing of book three and the date when book four goes into use.

Mr. and Mrs. Phines Keels of this city had as their guest last week the former's parents and brother, Pvt. R. L. Keels and wife of Porterville.

Marin City Pie Booth At Festival

Marin City's Pie Booth at the Grape Festival this Saturday will be decorated in red, white and blue. An added attraction at the booth will be an oil painting of the "S. S. Lackawapen," painted by C. By DOROTHY SMITH

The realization that our manpower shortage may be little more than unused woman-power is simmering down into government agencies now. Part of the Manpower Mobilization Drive is being directed toward the employment of women on a part-time basis.

It isn't just a dream. At the Mare Island yard, women office workers are being recruited for half-day work.

According to Marinship and most other shipyards, their industry does not lend itself to part-time work. But it doesn't take a very long memory to recall the days when they said that shipyard operations didn't tend to women workers.

But look at them now! Now we know, that if necessity forces, they can make the mental and operational adjustments for a change.

So Marin City women, who by location are natural Marinship workers, can start considering the possibilities.

Nowadays you can't get household help for love nor money. Mothers who start out working full time soon bog down completely or are guilty of that bugaboo, absenteeism, simply because they can't work a full day at the yard, and then face every evening—a sink of dirty dishes, piled up laundry, food and clothing shopping, a dirty house, etc. Every woman could add to that list from bitter experience.

The other side of the picture shows women working either afternoon or morning shifts—half a day to build ships, and half a day to cope with the domestic situation.

We wager that the housewives here would storm the employment office for a chance like that.

Start getting set now, willy-nilly the shipyard executives will be driven to it eventually.

Mrs. Ann Shamblyn of Balboa, Calif., left last week after a visit here with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Cot. Leaving with Mrs. Shamblyn was her granddaughter, Mrs. B. White, who will make a short visit with relatives in Redding, Calif.

Bloomquist, W. Del Tredici, H. L. Denny, C. C. Cousins, L. Messersmith, A. Walenta, W. R. Schupman, Leo Townsend, C. R. Eades, George Galbraith, H. E. Houg, J. R. Kahrt and F. C. Leander.

Hal Dunleavy, the club's only honorary member and its one male member, was project services director of the housing authority when the club was formed. Mr. Dunleavy is now on the staff of the Vallejo Housing Authority.

HOMEMADE BREAD

Baking your own bread isn't just a cooking achievement, it's a good way of life. You can't cherish a mean thought or an irritable disposition when your hands are plunged in the warm dough which will turn into the staff of life for your family.

To turn out four fragrant, crusty loaves takes very little attention or labor, it just takes time at home. So if you're to be stuck in the house on a rainy day or with a sick child—cheer up your spirits and bake!

A recipe for good white bread:

4 cups (1 quart) milk
1/4 cup sugar
4 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 cakes yeast
1/4 cup lukewarm water
12 cups sifted all-purpose flour (approximately)

First scald the milk. Then add the sugar, salt and shortening and let cool until lukewarm. Then add the yeast, which has been softening in the lukewarm water.

Now sift the flour into a big bowl and slowly pour in and constantly mix the milk mixture.

When the dough is stiff enough to handle, turn out on a slightly floured board and start kneading. With the heel of your hands push it in and roll it over until, in about five minutes, the dough has the fine sheen of silk.

Then shape the dough in a smooth ball, place in a slightly greased large bowl, and also grease the top of the dough with shortening.

Now cover the bowl with a clean towel, and put in a warm spot until it doubles its size. This part can be done overnight.

When it has swollen double, punch it down and roll into another ball to rise again. After this second rising is accomplished, mold the dough into four loaves, place in bread pans, brush the tops with melted fat, and let them rise to double their size in their own pans.

When they have puffed up over the tops of the edges, bake in an oven at 425 degrees for about 45 minutes.

Take out the golden crusty loaves and let them cool on a rack. Then call in the family, hand out slices of warm bread and jam, and start receiving their praises.

VEGETABLE SALAD

If the small fry in your house refuse your best mixed green salads, try out a new wrinkle to encourage their eating those needed vitamins.

Instead of chopping the raw salad vegetables together, try serving them sliced and in rows on a platter. Arrange some lettuce on your prettiest plate and line across it the following greens:

A row of sliced tomatoes.
A green pepper in circular slices.
A cucumber sliced up with the washed skin left on it.
A cluster of radishes.
A small orange heap of raw carrot sticks.
And any other raw vegetables you happen to have around.

You can serve this with a bowl of salad dressing beside it, but try letting the youngsters sprinkle sugar on their choices. The advantage of this arrangement is that the children are given the grownup privilege of selecting their own vegetable. You'll probably find Johnny selecting his own slices of green pepper and eating them with gusto, even though he used to poke them out of his mixed salad.

The road to Victory must be paved with War Bonds. The purchase of bonds will help win the war and assure a sound post-war economy. Every dollar you put into War Bonds does three vital jobs:

1. It helps shorten the war and thus saves American lives.
2. It protects your future as an investment.
3. It prevents inflation now and after the war.

Critics Laud Work Of Marinship Artists Exhibition At Museum

The exhibition of the Marinship war workers' paintings and sculptures at the opening September 22 at the Museum of Art presented works of art portraying the shipyard scene and works covering other subjects as executed by yard employees. It is probably the first show ever organized representing the artistic creations of men and women in the personnel of a shipbuilding industry.

Plenty of pictorial material was put to use from the immense machinery, and constant activity to the bulky, sometimes weird appearing clothing of the workers in the Marinship panorama.

Pictures in the show to be noted are those of George Harris, Sausalito; Moya del Pino, Sygmund Sazevich, Lucien Labault and Gaylord Pierce. Marin artists Richard O'Hanlon, Charles Dornbach, Sausalito; Bart Perry and Lyman Young, Sausalito, contributed outstanding work in sculpture and pictures, according to the critics.

Edward Fournane's "Village Street" was considered by Alfred Frankenstein, Chronicle art critic, as "one of the brightest small canvases of them all."

Talented workers at Marinship have good reason to take pride in the achievement of this show, according to the reaction of the public and art critics since the hanging of the exhibition.

Closing date of the show is October 17.

New Departure Announced By S.F. Symphony

The Musical Association of San Francisco this week announced the San Francisco Orchestra's thirty second season.

A distinct departure is found in the regular Memorial Opera House concert series. Instead of the usual 12 Friday afternoon and Saturday night concert pairs there will be a Friday afternoon series of eight concerts, each, except for the opening concert, having a guest soloist. These concerts will be repeated on a Saturday night series which will include four additional concerts with programs devoted to serious music.

Another innovation will be a series of four Saturday night "Pop" concerts which will present the orchestra in programs of lighter mood. The season opens November 19 and closes April 1.

With Pierre Monteux serving his ninth year as conductor, Mrs. Leonora Wood Armsby, president and managing director, has engaged outstanding guest artist for the season.

Andre Kostelanetz will conduct the first two "Pop" concerts. Pianists to be heard are Alexander Brailowsky, Leon Fleisher, Jesus Maria Sanroma and Jose Iturbi. Argentinita and her dance ensemble, Isaac Stern, violinist, and Marian Anderson, contralto, also are listed with others to be announced.

In addition to the regular subscription series of the orchestra there will be four Young People's Concerts, 11 Municipal Concerts presented by the Art Commission of San Francisco six of which are Ballet Theatre performances, 10 Standard Oil Broadcasts and several out of town engagements.

Liquid refreshments were served during the afternoon to spur the work.

THE FISH

By UNCLE LOUIE

An official of the State Fish and Game Commission has voiced the opinion that the bass season be shortened three of the early months of the year if the striped bass are to survive.

He gave as a logical reason the fact that the bass spawn at that time and a closed season then would help them increase. He also stated that reckless disregard for the law and indiscriminate taking of fish by fishermen before and after sunrise—and in the number of bass taken and needlessly destroyed is rapidly putting the stripers out of existence.

The laws we now have in effect have not kept the bass in fair numbers in the fishing areas. These laws are sponsored by sportsmen—the class of men responsible for planting the fish here in the first place. And if these laws were not being enforced—and this applies also to all wild life (a source of recreation and food for many deserving people), this country would be bare of the fish, fur and feathers that are now protected by law.

Wild life depends a great deal on mankind for their existence; let's give them a fair deal.

It is, in my estimation, the duty of every hunter and angler to strictly adhere to the law and also see that his sporting companions do the same.

There are many good fishing and hunting days ahead for all of us. Let us go out with a determination to do our part to conserve our wild life so that our returning soldiers will have a chance at their favorite game when they come home.

Yours for a fair deal.

SPORTS STATIC

BY TEX

The Marin City Juniors won first place in the Marin County League. That is a very bare statement that doesn't take into consideration all the obstacles. Coming from all parts of the country, the boys had never played together before, most of them had never met before they started to play ball.

Difficulty was had in finding a coaching staff and three or four changes were made before the present staff was finally accepted; and last but not least, the house grounds definitely could not be said to be a first class diamond.

The boys deserve plenty of credit, and any extra orchids lying around might be given to the coaching staff, Raymon Tanguay, Ralph Siegel and Ray Thompson, for their work.

Now the team goes on to play in the winter conference at San Francisco, where they will undoubtedly give a good account of themselves.

Flower Planting New Activity At Garden Center

By HELEN VAN PELT

Next Wednesday, October 6, 1 p. m., the first session of the Planters meets at the Garden Center. Last week's Citizen gave the details. Places are limited, so be sure to come at that time, or tell us ahead of time to save a place for you. Our friend of last year, Herman Hein will be on hand to advise us.

We have been given the green light on flower gardens and lawns, for this fall planting. And the Garden Center is stocking up on stocks, nemesia, Chinese forget-me-nots and other outstanding items which can be planted in the fall for bloom in late winter and very early spring.

We are all grateful to the flower-lovers who have grown beautiful asters, marigolds, larkspur, phlox and zinnias this summer. They have done much to brighten up our town. The more the better—sweet peas are headliners in this district, also nasturtiums.

Wooden Shoes Made At Center Homecraft Class

Do you want to make yourself some wooden shoes? Does your old furniture need remodeling or would you enjoy making some new? Or would you like to relax with an evening of badminton?

All this, and much more, is possible by joining in Marin City's recreation hours at the Community Building.

The Home Craft group which meets every Monday and Wednesday at 10 a. m., is now complete with a brand-new bandsaw, which does wood cutting the easy way. Ladies, and one gentleman, in the class are making all kinds of wooden gadgets now and are working up to a big furniture output.

Help and instruction, if you want it, is free. There's still room for a few more wood workers, who can join by appearing on meeting days at the workshop behind the Community Building, says R. A. Ara-Bea, instructor.

For those who are sports inclined, badminton on Mondays at 7 p. m. is the thing now. Everything is free except energy and sport shoes, which new members are asked to bring along with them. Monday's play is open only to adults. If you can prove you're over 18, come along to the Community Building auditorium. Mrs. M. Darke is on hand to explain fine points of the game, or lend a hand to dud players.

BLAZING A NEW TRAIL

A conference of war housing project tenants from all over the San Francisco Bay Area will be held in Vallejo next Sunday.

This conference will be the first of its kind in the nation. We think it will be a major contribution to the war effort.

The war we are fighting is a people's war. The more the entire people are engaged in fighting it, the greater is the guarantee of victory and the establishment of the kind of a peace which will make sure freedom and democracy for all people and all nations.

Federal war housing plays an important part in the winning of the war. More than 100,000 war workers in the San Francisco Bay Area alone live in such projects. Their lives and the families' lives in these temporary wartime homes have a direct bearing on production in the plants in which they work. If health conditions are good, if there is sufficient medical care, if there is a well planned recreational and entertainment program, if there is adequate child care and school facilities, if there are enough places to shop close by and if prices are reasonable, if there are democratic councils of tenants through which grievances can be settled, then production will go up. If the opposite is true, production will lag.

Those who know the most about war housing and those who can do the most in ironing out difficulties are those who live their daily lives in war housing. If only for this reason we feel that the Vallejo conference is a vital necessity.

But it goes further than that. Tenants of war housing in the Bay Area have come from all sections of the country to help win the war. They have broken home ties and in too many cases have not had time to make new ones in California. It is all the more important then that we meet together to once again take our place in the making of local, state and national policy. This is the democratic American way of doing things. This is our guarantee that our entire strength, both on the production line and on the political and economic front, will be used to the greatest effect in winning the war. Without conferences such as this, and without democratically elected city councils we are like a prize fighter with one hand tied behind his back.

We hope the results of the conference will become known all over the land so that other such meetings will be organized.

To the delegates at the Vallejo conference go our best wishes. They are blazing new trails for democracy. They are 1943 pioneers.

SAFETY VALVE

Dear Editor:

Congratulations for so lovely a little paper as the Marin Citizen. We receive it, read it, and pass it on to the "home" folks each Saturday with a modest amount of bragging about it. We hope to receive it for a long time.

(Included in the letter was a wedding announcement printed elsewhere in the paper.)

Mrs. Charles Kingdon,
House 645.

Dear Editor:

Last week Mr. Jimmie Dee, one of Marin City's pioneer settlers and operating engineer par excellence at Marinship, celebrated his 31st birthday at his Marin City rancho high atop Cobblers Knob.

Missing again for the second year of the war was the customary open house and hilarity which heretofore marked the occasion. However, Signor Dee and a select few close associates occupied themselves in alcoholic research and general gawkerery.

Your roving snoopers,
Sahib Ali Ben O'Reilly.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Sick Bay

In this war our wounded fighting men have a greater chance for recovery than in any previous conflict because of the medical aids and services that have been developed by the War and Navy Departments.

One of these aids is the Hospital Transport Plane service that has been bringing our wounded back from Africa.

Your increased and continued purchase of War Bonds is required to help the Treasury Department finance this hospital transport service. "Back the attack with War Bonds."

THE... SOAP... BOX...

By The Editor

For a long time workers at bay area shipyards have been trying to get hot meals served at lunch time, instead of having to stand in line for cold, unpalatable food. The closer we get to the winter months, the more important these efforts become.

Now, one group of shipyard workers has been able to accomplish this goal. Workers at the Bethlehem yard, fed up with cold food, demanded that the management dismiss the concessionaire which had been feeding them sandwiches for lunch. This week their demands were heeded and Bethlehem has promised that hot meals will soon be available.

There is no reason why every yard on the Pacific Coast could not do likewise—with benefits to everybody concerned.

We still remember standing in line at the yard last winter with the rain pouring down our necks and finally, after ten or fifteen minutes, getting a soggy sandwich which we washed down with lukewarm coffee while sitting on a box in a hold that was like the inside of an icebox. This was not very pleasant, nor will it be this winter.

During the whole course of the war, workers in Britain have been getting hot meals at work. This was so even during the critical "blitz" months. In the United States, those plants which serve hot meals are in the minority. The damage to morale and production caused by this lack has been great, not to mention the unnecessary illness caused.

We think it's about time that something definite be started by Marinship so that when the rainy weather starts there will be a definite guarantee of hot meals for everyone who works in the yard.

And we mean hot meals for everyone on all three shifts too!

A Substitute for Hell

Somewhere in New Guinea these wounded soldiers await evacuation. Flat on their backs, in the steaming heat of the jungle, where mosquitoes plague the air and ants and mosquitoes torment weary bodies, they dream of home . . . of clean white sheets and the touch of cool, comforting hands. You can help provide modern hospitals and the medicines they need for their recuperation by putting every dollar you can into War Bonds during the Third War Loan.
